

* All voltages are measured with a 10M Ω /DC electric volt meter.
 * Components having special characteristics are marked with a special symbol.
 * Components must be replaced with parts having specifications equal to or better than the original.
 * Schematic diagram is subject to change without notice.

