

The noisy SPDIF signal in the CD624 transport could be enhanced as well.

The signals from the digital filter are reclocked before they enter the DAC

The Xtal-clock is always less noisy than a VCXO, so that injecting this clock directly into the DAC improves the jitter-performance.