

Here you have the circuit currents, means you open the points with were the line points and insert an amperometer in series with the line.... the points shows the place were the line was opened and current measured.

DHR currents

