

ebay Artikelnummer:110527683545 Prototype Höfner BAT 1960 ***absolutely rare***

This model never went into mass production.

The manufactured models were all constructed in 1960.

The guitar was presented for the first time at the spring fair in Frankfurt Main in 1960 and cost 650 DM.

Höfner intended to go a new way in design and electronic, the exceptional style came about.

Transistors had been quite new in 1960 so that an amplifier was engineered and embedded.

Just imagine how long the 9 V battery at 4 W Power last. The amplifier just had to raise the loudness.

The changes of the guitars and the direction of the music angled off. While the BAT was expensive as the most expensive Höfner Jazzguitar it was expected that this guitar wouldn't be a seller.

Facts:

Amplifier and speaker are not existing.

Machine heads and bridge aren't original.

One pickups is loose

The top of the headstock ist damaged and must be completed.

The pickguard isn't original. It covers three holes.

The neck must re-glued to the body.

For all those who love and collect vintage guitars this one is a unique piece.