

Note: Connect the two points 3.3v and gate of the FET as shown in yellow using a wire on the bottom side of the board . Also note that the legends printed on this level shifter board is printed on the back side by mistake. So the side which is not printed is actually the top side. You can use this picture as a reference for soldering. This picture is actually the top side of the level shifter board.