

First the Citation Eleven amplifier

Then the Citation Twelve amplifier

Now the Citation Thirteen a revolutionary omnidirectional speaker system

When Kardon's Citation started to dominate the speaker system market, it was the Citation Eleven. It was clear that the speaker system had to be truly omnidirectional. It had to fill the room with sound, not just the front and back seats. It had to be a speaker system that would fill the room with sound, not just the front and back seats.

Now Kardon's Citation Thirteen is the answer. It's a speaker system that will fill the room with sound, not just the front and back seats. It's a speaker system that will fill the room with sound, not just the front and back seats.
