Description/Beschreibung:

In the audio preamplifier, the parallel push-pull adjustment (ShuntRegulatedPush-Pull, SRPP) circuit with high gain, low distortion, characteristics, can obtain excellent sound performance, which are widely used in the audio circuit. The common cathode amplifying circuit for the headphone amplifier output stage circuit, by controlling the corresponding theoretical calculation parameters, headphones work better.

RTHK very popular before a 6DJ8 SRPP finished circuitry in Germany, is Morgan Jones (Morgan Jones) designed tube headphon

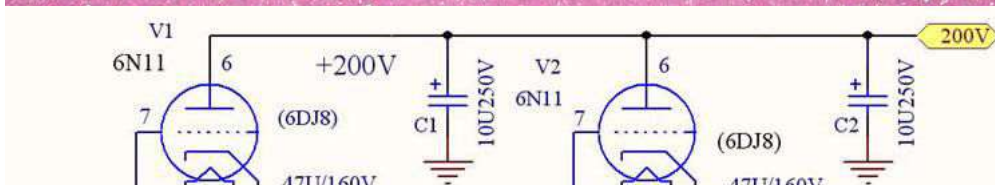

(--- bing_77men ebay shop welcome you to buy it ---)

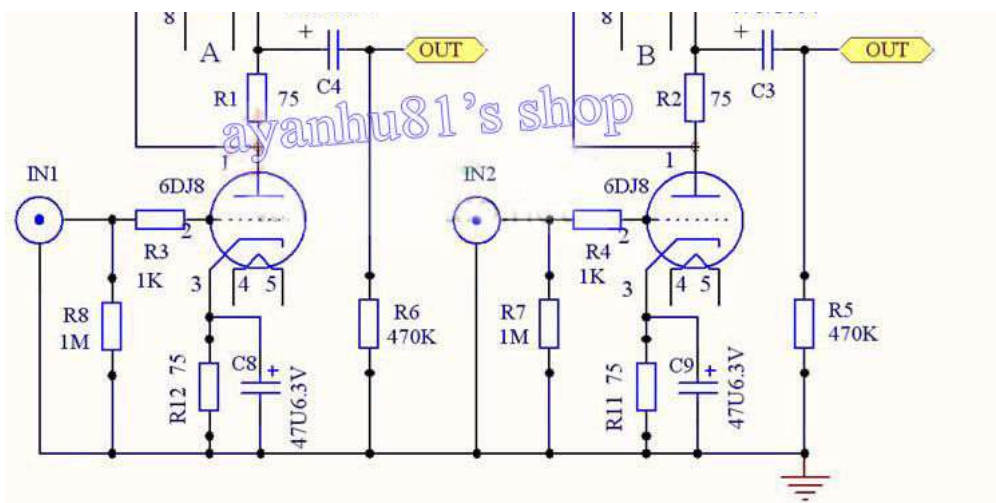

Amp for early contact with buyers, this circuit is simple and easy to do, the success rate is high, but you can use a different impedance headphones of 15Ω to 300Ω .

Due to stringent power requirements SRPP recommended high pressure, low pressure regulator circuit using power line ripple coefficient for gall amp effect will be ideal.

Exquisite double-sided FR4 fiberglass boards, high-quality gold-plated PCB, thick copper foil, thickness 2mm. Plate size 110mm ×

200V high-voltage DC power supply, low voltage filament 6.3V power supply section.

The line looks simple, no nothing special, but careful analysis of the circuit, about 18 to 20mA operating current within the safe ran the same price than the market most of the tube headphone amplifier board nice.
