

Analog electronics and the patented “labyrinth resonance chamber” work together as a balanced system to provide rich, dynamic sound.

Guitars with built-in amp and speakers have been around since the '60s, but the quest for a self-amplified, pro-quality electric guitar with great tone has been elusive. EP has cracked the code, creating the guitar that does what no others can, and was awarded a US Utility Patent for their tuned acoustic labyrinth.
