permissions to allow yourself full permissions (Windows 7 Take Ownership & Grant Permissions to Access Files & Folder) and the problem goes away permanently. (Note C:\ must be your Window's path otherwise use your default root.)
Thanks Microsoft Support for your irrational, frustrating security measures and the fact that your support team doesn't have a clue. You haven't been able to write a user friendly OS since XP and arguably since MSDOS. Too bad that I hate Apple more than you.
6 hours of BS to figure this out.
I hope it works for you.
